LONDON, Nov. 11.-The German war machine has battered its way into the Belgian town of Dixmude. Today's French official statement contains the admission that the allies were obliged to fall back from this point of vantage in the great battle for pos. session of the Eastern shore of the British channel. As an offset, the French war office states that the allies' forces have advanced along the North Sea coast, pushing back the Germans and taking Lombaertzyde, a Belgian town a few miles northeast of Nieuport.

The warring nations on this, the one-hundredth day of the var, awaited. with keen suspense, the outcome of the struggle in Belgium which, for the moment, overshadows the conflicts on the many other fields of battle. From no other point came reports if important changes in the situation.

ccupied a suite at the Savoy Hotel New Attack of Germans, Supreme Effort.

The capture of Dixmude was the first indication that the new attack of the Germans, described a stheir supreme effort and probably marking & turning point in the war, had brought definite results. Between Dixmude and Ypres, which lies to the south, close to the Frenc hborder, the fighting has been most intense since the Germans elected at the opening of the week to begin the new onslaught with the help of their reinforcement of fresh Troops Perfected in France troops and new artillery. Oct. 15, during the advance on Ostend, the Germans occupied Dixmude, but later were compelled to fall back. The allies gained possession temporarily but their presence there was challenged repeatedly by the Germans, resulting in some of the most important and sanered and perfected a system of anti- guinary fighting of the war.

Along the remainder of the battle line, says the French War Office, there is no change, except for slight progress by the allies at a few points. The Berlin view of the situation, however, is optimistic. There were further indications today that the Turks were offering determined resistance to the Russian advance. British Point Out Gurkhas Are Fine Soldiers, but Understand Only One Tongue.

LONDON, Nov. 11.-The Indian forces LONDON, Nov. 11.—The Indian forces in France have made good, but have achieved none of the extraordinary exploits attributed to them according to loits attributed to them, according to a Sureau under date of Nov. 10 and written by "an observer with the Indian corps." Above all, the account emphasizes the difficulties under which the Indians are fighting because of their ignorance of the French, German and English languages. Repeatedly the Germans have played tricks on them.

"The Germans are full of resource," says the account, "and it is one of their favorite plans to lure the allied troops into attacking them by various devices. of which an indicated intention of surendering is the most common. If this deception is successful, a skilfully conealed machine gun turns a murderous re upon those who have advanced either to attack or to accept surrender.

German Trick That Failed. "The audacity of the enemy cannot better be illustrated than by a wellauthenticated statement of what took place last night in a trench held by the furkha regiment. A figure silhouetted by the moonlight and wearing a comlete Gurkha uniform, approached the end of the trench and delivered this message: "The Gurkhas are to move urther up the trench; another Gurkha ntingent is advancing in support. "Puzzled by this announcement, the officer in command replied: 'Who are ou? Where do you come from?' "This question under the circum tances was no easy one to answer, and and fled. But he had not gone five yards

"If the officer had been deceived, the trench, of course, would have swarmed with Germans almost before the Gurkhas had made room for them: It can readily be imagined that under such onditions the Indian troops engage the enemy in circumstances of special difficulty. They are in a strange country, their training and instincts have accustomed them to quite different concitions. It is easy to distinguish between German and French soldiers in the day time, but it is not easy in the dark.

Understand Only One Banguage. "The Gurkhas understand no lan guage but their own, and few others understand that. Their stragglers are exposed to difficulties in the way of reoining their units, which it is almos mpossible to exaggerate, nor must be forgotten that the intentions which the German Emperor expressed with reference to the forces under the command of Field Marshal Sir John French embraced to an equal degree the army corps composed of our Indian fellow

How to Peel Off a Weatherbeaten Face

It's really a simple matter to resove a face soiled by dirt, wind or celd. C dinary mercolized wax, used like eccream, will transform the worst ocomplexion into one of snowy whiteme and velvety softness. It literally per off the outer veil of surface skin, but gently, gradually, there's no discomfor The worn-out skin comes off, not patches, but evenly, in tiny partiel leaving no evidence of the treatmen. The younger, healther under-skin for ing the new complexion is one of cap vating lovellness. One cunce of mercolized wax, to be had at any drug stor is enough to remove any coarse, chaped, freckled, faded or sallow see.

By RIPLEY D. SAUNDERS. HEN "George Fleming" drama-tized "The Light That Failed" in order to give the play a happy endthe story's typical Kipling spirit, but she made a pretty romance of material that, in its original shape, deals very harshly with Eve's daughters.

And, remembering that Kipling is a confirmed woman hater, seeing little good in the sex, and that, in spite of his dictum to the contrary, there have been many women of splendid self-abnegatestify-I am not at all sure that Kip-Fleming's" play the He in the case at

Anyway, although there are hard and selfish women in the world, Malsie seems far more womanly than they, in realizes that she loves the blind Dick Heldar, now "down and out" for the rest of his life, infinitely more than she loves her art and the fame for which she long had yearned, and determines that she will stick to him and let her painting go hang, if need be.

It is upon this choosing of Maisle's that the play's last curtain falls and I'm blest if it doesn't seem, to me, a far more certain feminine choosing than that of the Maisie created by the Kipling who sings, in an almost sexless mood of bitter scornfulness, that "a woman is only a woman, but a good Forbes-Robertson realizes Dick Hel-

The adventurous soul of Dick is in his drawing, with its fine joy in peril by flood and field, in "man-talk" dangers come so thick and fast that only real men are there to savor the zest of it, in the mad folly of facing death for sheer relish of the gambler's

But also, with equal fidelity, he relizes the Dick Heldar who loves Maisie better even than he loves these other essentially "man things;" the artist side of Dick Heldar, that is as truly Dick Heldar as the "fighting animal" and here it is that the play's story receives its greatest stroke of com-

It isn't a weak sentimentality that makes Dick Heldar babble of Maisle in his Soudan delirium, nor, as the fit-ting companion-picture to this scene, is it an impossibly loyal Maisle who elects to stand by him in his pitiable blind-

The three big moments of Dick Heldar's life, those in which he learns that no longer may he follow the battle trail with his jubilant war-correspondent cronies; when he is told by the venge-ful Bessie Broke that she has destroyed his great painting, the crown-ing work of his career, and when he learns from Maisie's own lips that she loves him too spiendidly to be capable of deserting him in his need, are unforson's playing.

They sound, too, the keynote of the play-and there's a warm glow of approving contentment in one's heart as the last curtain falls on the happiness of Dick and Maisle-a happiness that has been felt by many a loyally loved man and loyally loving woman in this

Miss Laura Cowie presented a quite consistent Maisle, willful, stubborn and exasperating, after the manner of the best of women at times, until the su-preme moment arrives when women must choose between love and selfish interest. Lord bless and save us allif this choosing of woman weren't on the side of sacrifice for love's sake nine times out of then, the whole race of man would have gone headlong to the demnition bow-wows ages and ages ago! The distribution of the peaceful port of Stapleton, Staten Island, took one long breath of relief and treated himself and his crew of 21 to schnaps all around. The Indra is a steel-built, full-rigged ship of $800 tons.

June 11 last, Capt, Karstadt cleared and consigned to the firm's agents at first article to be placed on the contra-band list by all the warring nations. August 26, 77 days after she sailed, the Indra spoke the first ship she had sighted rounding the Horn, a Swedish steamer. From her Capt. Karstadt and his crew learned that "Germany was at war with all the world."

The story seemed so incredible to the captain of the Indra and was so mixed with rumor and conjecture that he made up his mind to devote all his energies, for the time being, to obtaining accurate news of the events. With that intention, he bore away for Flores in tory, and the captain, thinking Portugal was involved in the war, feared that the Indra, entering that harbor, would be made a prize, along with her

For four days, consequently, the Indra was kept hovering around the island, hoping to pick up a steamer, which it would be safe to speak with and learn the news. But no ship was sighted and at length Capt. Karstadt steered away directly for the English

Frenchman's Tall Tale. Sept. 29 the Indra found herself at a point less than 80 miles southwest of Bantry Head on the southern coast of Ireland, a shorter distance due west of the Scilly Isles, and exactly in the transatlantic steamship lane. Here Capt. Karstadt decided to lie to, with ouble lookouts, for some news.

The first ship sighted, the next day, proved to be a French bark. "I have neard some sea yarns in my day," says Capt. Karstadt, with a chuckle, "but the captain of that bark beats then

The first information imported by the villing Frenchman was of the fall of Berlin. The city, he told Capt. Karstadt, had been captured early in Sep-tember by the allied French, Russian nd British armies, and with the bulk of the German armies still in the field. manded by the Crown Prince. The Kaiser had escaped to Wilhelmshaven, where he had boarded his flagshin and led his fleet out to fight the British fleet. In the resulting naval engage-ment off Helgoland the entire German tleet had been either sunk, driven ashore or captured, at trifling loss to the British. The Kaiser was a prisoner the British. The Kaiser was a prisoner of war, and was in Paris, where the French and British were arranging for his transfer to St. Helena. But above everything else, the genial Frenchman assured his German friend that it was perfectly safe for him to go on into the channel, as the war was now over and peace had been declared. By all means he must go on to his destination and deliver his cargo at Dunkirk, where it deliver his cargo at Dunkirk, where it

"I guess if Germany is at peace with anybody at all, she's at peace with the United States," said Capt. Karstadt, and he bore down and hailed. In a very few oments he obtained from Capt. The Bureau of Corporations is expect ed to become the Federal Trade Com-President Wilson has said it seems likely that he will name the members of the new Commission early in December. ashington anticipates that Joseph E. Davies, the present Commissioner Corporations, will have a place on the Commission. One member is expected to be an economist of reputation, and he other members probably will be chosen from the ranks of law and busi-

If the working pace set by the Bureau of Corporations is caught up and fol-lowed step for step by the members of the Trade Commission, they will know what it is to work and to walk. The Bureau of Corporations has the fame, if such it be, of being one of the most toilsome places in the Government service It has had a lot of work of one kind or another put upon it, and it is one of the offices in this city in which the lights burn almost constantly during hours when windows of other offices

Certain tasks have been outlined fo the Trade Commission. The legislation bringing it into being more than sketches what it must do. The Commissi will have the duty of regulating compe tition by advice, by moral suasion, and by means of co-operation with the De-partment of Justice. The trade body was originated in the idea that the that it is big, bad, or indifferent to the needs of the public from which it draws its support and to which it must be responsive, as that it has been permeated by unfair practices, the abolition of which would at the same time abolish most business evils.

The Trade Commission is expected to be a clearing house for information of such a character as to enable business spurred by public opinion, to set itself in order without undue pain. In the relations of business to and with busi-ness, the relation of these relations to the general welfare, and the legislation which advanced experience may find necessary, will be the principal subjects

Resigned to Regulation. The new commission is to begin life, perhaps, under more favorable auspices than those under which the Interstate Commerce Commission started its career. At that time the railroads were fighting regulation of every sort, and so great was their power in Washington that Congress did not pass a law creating a commission with drastic powers ness seems to have accepted as inevi-table the idea of regulation, and its

"right" kind.

The new commission, the capital seems to think, will come into power with many friends in the busin ss worl1. and with an atmosphere of friendliness generally which will be both unusual and sincere. This sympathy between the commission and business, of course. ments to the commission are likely to meet with strong minority opposition

OWNER OF RESTAURANT STABBED IN FIGHT

Patrons Mix in "Free-for-All" When Waiter Refuses to Serve Youth.

The night waiter in John Hocken's restaurant, 1107 Park avenue, refused to serve a cup of coffee to George Taylor, 17 years old, of 1029 Park avenue, at 12:30 o'clock this morning because Taylor's father had notified the proprietor he did not want his son to be eating midnight lunches away from home.

Taylor and his companion, George

Dalson of 1313 Dolman street, becamangry and quarreled with the waiter, Bobert Byrd. Several other patrons took up the affair and in a few minutes there was a general fight with sugar lowls and catsup bottles flying.

Hocken, upstairs, heard the commotion and after firing a shot in the air to attract the police, went down and joined n the fight. He was stabbed in the abdomen and on the face. Walter B. Lang of 7575 Hiawatha street, Richmond Heights, who was one of the patrons in the general fight, was struck on the head with a sugar bowl. When patrolmen arrived Hocken and Lang were lying on the floor. Hocken was uncon acious. They were taken to hospital. Lang after treatment was taken to the Soulard Street Station. Jury Holds That James Mc-Causland, Former Bank Cashier Is Legally Dead.

A jury in Circuit Judge Rassieur's court today returned a verdict that James McCausland, former cashier of the Maplewood Bank, realty dealer and secretary of the McGrew Computing Scale Co., is legally dead and that his wife, Mrs. Eliza V. McCausland, is entitled to $3000 insurance on has life. The insurance policy was in the Reyal Arcanum, which was named as defendant in suit brought by Mrs. McCausland.

McCausland left his home at $811 mar boulevard Jan. 2, 1907, telling his wife that he was going South on business. She testified that between that date and Jan. 10 she reselved seven letters from him, the last one being mailed at Jacksonville, Fla.
In instructing the jurors Judge

Rassieur said they could presume McCausland dead if they were satisfied from the evidence he had been absent from the State for seven years or more and nothing had been heard from him in the meantime.

CONGRESSMAN BALTZ

Man Defeated by Rodenberg Informed Votes Were Not All Counted in Alton.

Congressman William N. Baltz of Millstadt, who was defeated in last week's election by former Congressman William A. Rodenberg of East St. Louis, has asked the county committeemen to provide him with the official vote in detail, as he desires to study the returns carefully.

Baltz has announced no contest, and his friends say that he has none in mind at present, but it is known that he desires to investigate for himself some of the things about the election.

For instance, the unofficial figures gave Rodenberg Madison County by 1467. the city of Alton Baltz is informed that the city of Alton Baltz is informed that 630 ballots, one-seventh of all that were cast, were not counted for any candidate for Congress. He is also looking up the result in Belleville, Granite City and Collinsville, where there had been manifested for him a friendliness which was not reflected in the returns.

The St. Clair County returns, which represent the home county of both candidates, show how closely they ran, for the official count indicated a plurality of but one vote for Rodenberg—Baltz 9972, Rodenberg 9973.

The quarantine against Southern cattle and sheep raised in Florida, North and South Carolina and Louisiana and in parts of Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas,

Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia, will be in effect until all danger of mouth and hoof diseases of cattle reaching the yards has passed. All of the pens, chutes and viaducts used in handling native cattle and hogs have been disinfected by a force of 500 men, and the chutes and pens used by Southern cattle and sheep will have beer cleaned by tomorrow or Friday. Four gas engines were used in spraying the pens and chutes with disinfectant. As an extra precaution against the appear ace of the disease, all of the packing plants were disinfected by employes. Dispatches say the Chicago yards will copen next Sunday at midnight.

Mystery of Deaths of Pine Plains (N. Y.) Couple in Burned Home in 1912, Is Cleared.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Nov. 11.-The death of George Vosburg and his wife, in their lonely farmhouse near Plains during the Christmas holidays of 1912, was stripped of its mystery today by the alleged confession of John Wood, a farmer. Wood told the District Attorney and the Sheriff that he and three companions killed the cou-ple with an ax, robbed them of $800 and then burned the farmhouse, The charred bodies were found in the cel-

The District Attorney placed Wood inder arrest and announced that he had confessed the crime because he could longer endure the tortures of concience and wished "to clear his soul." On information said to have been furished by Wood, his alleged accomolices. Jesse Pells, Orvil Smith and Osar Post, were arrested near the village of Pine Plains later in the day. Wood was quoted as telling the fol-owing story of the crime: "Post started the whole thing. Vosburg had a chattel mortgage for about $50 on his furniture and was going to foreclose it. Post got me, Pells and Smith, and we went in the night to Vosburg's house, first taking an ax from the woodhouse on the farm of Jacob Hinsdale, where I worked.

"Post knocked at the door and Vosburg opened it. Post demanded the mortgage and Vosburg resused to give it up. Then he ordered us away. Vosburg then drew a revolver which he fired once, when Post swung the ax on is skull. I guess it killed Vosburg instantly. Post dropped the ax and en-nered the house. We followed.

"Mrs. Vosburg came out of her room caught up the ax and hit her like Post had hit the old man. Then we diverware. We found $800 in cash and ook that, too. Then we opened all the loors and poured kerosone around and set fire to the house. We buried the silver in the woods near by and got it two weeks later. 'That's about all there

NELON CHARGED WITH FRAUD IN WARRANT

Vinegar Company's President Accused of Issuing a False Warehouse Receipt.

A warrant against Harry A. Nelon o 4441 Forest Park boulevard, president of the Avis Cider & Vinegar Co., at Second and Austin streets, charging him was issued yesterday after two of Nelon's employes told Assistant Circult Attorney Baer that Nelon had ordered them to fill tanks, supposed to have contained cider and vinegar, with 2200 barrels of water.

The State National Bank, on the strength of the warehouse receipt, allowed Nelon to renew a note for $7000. Edmund E. Menard of 1715 Papin street, foreman at the vinegar plant. declared there had been no cider or vinegar at the factory since June 10, when there had been a fire. Two months later, he said, Nelon ordered him to fill the tanks with water and he did so. A week after that, he said, he emptied the tanks at Nelon's order, running the water into the sewer. Edward J. Liska, 4169 Blaine avenue, basement foreman, corroborated Menard. You, or any man, can be this musician tonight!

Think of being able to sit down and play any piece your fancy suggests-and to play it well, even though you have never had any musical training.

This wonderful possibility is open to you tonight and open to everyone else in this city.

The Pianola makes this possible

The Pianola is not an ordinary "player-piano" that grinds out tunes in a mechanical sort of a way. The Pianola is a musical instrument which teaches you and guides you and enables you to play music artistically by music roll and to express your own musical feelings.

There is but ONE Pianola

The Pianola is widely imitated, but possesses important features which are vital to the proper expression of music when played by music roll.

The Pianola is sold in this city only by the makers—The Aeolian Company—and is built in but six models, Steinway, Stroud, Stuyvesant, Steck, Wheelock, and Weber. There is no good reason why you should consider an imitation for you may have a Pianola for as little as

ABOUT $300,000

City and Missour! Pacific to Share Expense of Removing Danger Spots.

From a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch. JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 11.—The Public Service Commission, in its order vesterday afternoon requiring the Missouri Pacific Railroad Co. to eliminate five St. Louis grade crossings, declares that "Safety First" is a complete answer to all arguments of the railroad against the order, and indicates that in all grade crossing cases pending before the Commission it will adhere to that principle.

The chief plea of the railroad was that no funds were available for the proposed improvements.

W. F. Woerner, who wrote the opinion, said, "The very first debt which a railroad company owes, and which it nust pay in full before any other obligation whatsoever, is its paramount duty of protecting the public whom it undertakes to serve, against loss of life, limb or property; and this applies equally to those within the trains and those on the highways over which it operates."

Mayor Kiel filed complaint with the Commission charging that the grade crossings on the Oak Hill branch of the Missouri Pacific at Eager Road, Shaw King's highway, McRee avenue and Wilson avenue were dangerous to life and property.

The railroad denied that the crossings were more dangerous than ordinary ossings and stated no funds were vailable to alter them.

Crossings Held Dangerous. Commission held that the cross ings are dangerous and ordered that at the crossings named, by a viaduct to cost approximately $300,000, and that the company should bear two thirds of the expense and the city of St. Louis one-third.

"The fact that only two accidents have occurred there within the past five years," the order of the commission ays, "we regard as a very fortunate circumstance. We should not wait for loss of life or property to impress the danger upon us. We should anticipate uch calamities and prevent their occur-

would have cost approximately $750,000. Referring to the "no funds" plea made by the railroad, Judge Woerner devotes an extended paragraph to a discussion of the rate question, which may be con-sidered significant of future action by the commission in connection with the proposed increase in tariffs which the ailroads of the State are asking.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE Extension of the Fourth Street Line.

the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

It has been recommended by State Engineer

The Fourth Street Line at the present time car-ries a maximum load of passengers, and to ex-tend it to Carondelet Park would increase this load to a considerable extent, transferring traffic from the Grand avenue and Bellefontaine lines In my estimation, it would be unwise for the Fourth street line to continue to Carondelet Park, thereby running for several miles over the Grand the cost, and none be unfairly burdened. the Carondelet residents of the necessity of mak-ing one transfer in order to reach downtown north ever Grand avenue. They now have two direct downtown carriers, the Broadway and Bellefontaine, which give quicker service than would the

In order to relieve the Carondelet situation, the Grand avenue line should be continued south on ussed heretofore. This would give the residents arondelet direct service of a cross-town line, ecting with every east and west line.

If there is to be any extension of the Fourth street line it should continue south on Grand avenue to Wyoming street; thence west to Morgan-ford road, as contemplated years ago in the plan of proposed extensions of the United Railways lines. Adequate accommodation would then be provided for that thickly populated district immediately south of Tower Grove Park and west of Grand avenue, and relieve the Tower Grove line from congestion between King's highway and Grand avenue. DISPOSING OF SOCIAL VALUES. Collier's Weekly cites the fact that a block of New York City land, worth $16,875 in 1860, is today valued at $1,150,000. The family that owned it in 1860 owns it today. Assuming the proprietors have made the land earn its taxes—they are reputed to have done much better-the people of New York, past and present, have made them a clear gift of $1,187,125. Besides that the people, through their local government, have protected the proprietors in their possession and use of the land. Collier's asks: "What is the best plan of handling these values?"

'If it be granted that wealth of right belongs to ts creators, that $1,137,125 of new values socially created should now belong to, or have been available for current use by, the people of New York working and trading around it.

Society every year more strongly asserts its right to claim at least a part of these values, socially created, for social use. Kansas City, building a system of parkways by assessing the cost against adjacent and nearby lands whose value was enhanced by this betterment, took for social ownership and use a large portion of the new values it so created. There was some opposition ed incurring a large bonded debt to pay for them; the benefited land owners have new values in their land larger than their shares of the cost of the improvement, and besides have the use of the parkways; the remainder of the citizens, for their the parkways were paid for, have the use and en- entitled to nothing more. Had New York in 1860 adopted the plan later adopted by Kansas City, there would be fewer New York families made enormously rich by taking-or being given-land values socially bridge is completed. Preparations to build it created; but New York City would not be paying $7.50 per capita interest on its bonded debt. Very likely the metropolis, by reason of its advantageous situation, would have attained its present size and wealth, and would possess fewer crowded. Harrop that the Fourth street line instead of ranging south on Grand avenue from Lafayette, sontinue west on Lafayette to Tower Grove lic institutions—to say nothing of many more small debt-free homesteads.

St. Louis' proposed parkway is to be paid for by assessments on benefited lands—the only just plan. Care should, and we doubt not will, be taken to make the parkway benefit district large enough so that all benefited lands shall help bear

UNHERALDED HEROTEM.

The light response to the British War Office's appeal for recruits is attributed to secrecy in the movement of troops and lack of news from the hattlefields.

Under the conditions of the present war the glory and the glamor of war have departed. There are no gallant soldiers in red coats, brass but tons and plumes marching through the streets to the stirring strains of martial music to stir the pulses of the young men. There are few thrill ing stories in the daily newspapers of personal heroism to inflame the imagination. The great illusion of war glory has vanished with the gor-

AN OPEN DOOR LOOP. .

Under the new charter the solution of the problem of providing terminal facilities is easy. The city can build a loop and issue bonds on the franchise and the property for that purpose collectively, who created it by assembling, living, precisely as the Southern Traction or any other corporation could do.

One of the principal objects of the new charter was to enable the city to build or purchase and operate public utilities. This power could not be put to better use than in providing municipal terminals for the municipal bridge.

The talk of regranting the loop purchase t at first, but all concerned are pleased with the Southern Illinois Traction Co. is folly. It results. FOR "PURE SERUM" REGULATIONS.

It is ascertained that the spread of the foot and mouth disease, which has already inflicted great loss, is due to the admixture of the virus of the disease with a serum for hog cholera made in two Chicago plants.

A similar cause was responsible for the foot and mouth epidemic five or six years ago that resulted in a damaging quarantine. A Northern laboratory imported tainted smallpox virus from Japan with which it innoculated cattle in the process of making serum for use on human beings. The innoculated cattle spread the foot and mouth disease, but if any injurious effects were traced to vaccinated persons no publicity was given

Of the making of serums there seems to be no end. That the vast dislocation of business attending the present quarantine should be caused primarily by persons with small financial or other responsibility for the tremendous injury their carelessness has inflicted is intolerable. GERMANY TAKES PITY.

All the world will rejoice at the news that Ger many has taken steps towards relieving the stricken Belgian population. In a prose poem on Nature, Goethe says: "Her crown is Love. Only through Love can we come to know her. She puts guifs between all things, and all things strive to be interfused. She isolates everything, that she may draw everything together. With a few draughts from the cup of Love she repays for a life full of trouble."

In the cold, soulless view of things, the accoring of these Belgians may appear unneces sary and even foolish. But the heart of the world is warm, Generosity, like Charity, covers many sins. And when the final summing up is made, Germany will find that her coal and grain and from death, are worth more than much gold and many guns.

fight, or did they box? Or what did they?"

Venturing an opinion that need not be "expert," it may safely be said, without fear of successful contradiction, that neither, judging by his performance of last night, will make the All-American team—if one is ever made up of boxers.

"No, positively, they did not fight, and they did very little boxing. But, were it not for the fact that they wore gioves and that their exhibition was labeled "boxing" match, it might be truthfully referred to as a pretty fair collar-and-elbow wrestling match.

That is not what the people were there to see, however, and they volced their disapproval. Even President Tommy Sullivan, who rarely interferes with what is going on in the ring, petulantly inquired at the end of the fourth round if I thought they were boxing their best, and I promptly replied that I did not. Then the young president said that they would have to do better or get out of the ring. He was disgusted, and not much wonder.

One of the nice points about the boxing game is to define the line that separates boxing from fighting. Night Chief Gillaspy requested to be enlightened on this point, last evening. For the benefit of the Chief we might say that when one man's ear is in the other man's mouth and the other man's thumb is in the one man's eye, it can be put down as a copper-riveted cinch that they are fightling. Otherwise, it is merely a scientific exposition of the finer points of the gentle art of self-defense and offense.

Of the four previous meetings, Central has been victorious in three. Soldan has been victorious in three. Soldan has thankglving day, 21-0, the largest score run up against Central in 10 years.

Soldan has won the five games played this season. Central has met as many opponents and was victorious in all but one, the St. Louis U. Undergrads, who held them to a 0-0 score.

Central and Soldan both played the East St. Louis High School team. Central scored almost twice as many points on the Illinoisans as the West Enders.

On the other hand, Soldan scored three touchdowns on Manual, whereas the central-city lads could but cross the line once. Soldan also did better than Central in the Smith centest.

Every week the POST-DIS-PATCH LOST and FOUND columns are used by more individual advertisers than use those of any other St. Louis newspaper:

FOUR TIMES as many as the Globe-Democrat.

NINE TIMES as many as the Republic.

FOUR TIMES as many as the Times and Star combined.

Often a single insertion in the Post-Dispatch restores the lost article, but several insertions are better. The first may be overlooked. Try a 3-time ad. Call Olive—6600—Central. Your credit is good if you rent a phone; or your druggist will phone your want ad to the Post-Dispatch. (70)

BREACH IN EAST ST. LOUIS OFFICIAL FAMILY WIDENS

fayor Chamberiin Refuses to Sign Pay Warrant of Commissioner Canavan.

The tangle in the official family of East St. Louis has been further compli-cated by the refusal of Mayer Chamberin to sign the October pay warrant of Thomas Canavan, whom he deposed as Commissioner of Public Works, but who still is holding office because his successor has not been confirmed.

Canavan's warrant for October. $150, was approved by the Claims Committee of the Council and by Comptroller Bois-

Under the law, Canavan is in office until the City Council confirms his auccessor. Chamberlin announced he would appoint Charles Gardner, a clerk in the Comptroller's office. Councilmen, however, have declared they will not confirm the appointment.

Social intercourse in the city hall has become very formal during the last two weeks. City Clerk John Griffin, formerly addressed as "Jack" by the Mayor, now is called "Mister Griffin," or "Mr. Clerk," and the Mayor, formerly hailed as "John" or "Johnny," is called "Mr. Mayor," with elaborate politeness.

called "Mr. Mayor, what itteness. The bowling game between Mayor Chamberlin and members of the Council, which has been held every Monday night after Council meeting for more than a year, was held as usual Monday night—minus the Mayor.

STOCK EXCHANGE

Market Atmosphere in the East Is Clearing-Sterling Exchange Is Easy.

Paris Bourse May Open in the Near Future. Near Future.

BORDEAUX, Nov. 11.—The Bank of France and the Stock Brokers'
Association of Paris have reached an agreement which will tend to egulate the liquidation of accounts utstanding on July 31 on the Paris Sourse, preparatory to the reopening of the financial market. The expression of the same lines

Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

"Most of the significant developments of the day touching financial affairs had to do with conditions here rather than abroad. The banks took the necessary action with reference to readjusting the clearing house rules governing reserves, so as to conform to the requirements of the new Federal law which will become effective with the opening of the Federal reserve banks next week; the Stock Exchange authorities removed all restrictions affecting trading in unlisted stocks; the regular weekly sales of securities at auction were resumed, and the price of sterling exchange reacted sharply from 4.90%, the quotation at the close of trading yesterday, to 4.89% today.

close of trading yesterday, to 4.89% today.

"There were large offerings of exchange again in connection with purchases of army supplies here. Some of the principal London banks which usually do a heavy business in lending money to the important financial centers of this city again put out considerable loans in Wall street.

"These arrangements were natural in view of the increasing ease in money rates and the evident desire of various Western banks to resume lending operations here on a considerable scale as soon as the reduced reserve requirements of the new banking law took effect.

available for rediscount by the Federal Reserve Banks.

"There is not the slightest doubt that the investment in paper of this class will increase as soon as the new law takes effect. More will be heard of this movement when the Federal Reserve Board makes public its highly interesting definition of commercial paper.

"This will be announced in a day or so, and there is reason to believe that it will be liberal enough to take in allaclasses of paper which arise from actual commercial transactions.

"Some of the savings banks practically ignored the 60-day notice of withdrawal clause in doing business today, the bars having been let down by the bankers in conference yesterday.

"This means in the case of some of the largest banks."

come return varying from 4½ to 6 per cent.

"Some of these purchases were from banks in cities which not long ago were sending on rush messages to correspondents in this city asking for assistance of various kinds.

Banks to Make Payments.

"Banks to Make Payments."

"Banks here prepared to make their large payments of cash to the new regional bank, under the terms of the 18 per cent cash reserve requirements, as against the 25 per cent accumulations which are provided by the terms of the national bank act. Although it has been estimated the new requirements will release about $160,000,000, it is by no means certain that any such amount will be immediately invested by the banks in either short-term or long term obligations.

"Under such conditions as prevail to

"Under such conditions as prevail to-day, it would be folly for the banks, even allowing for decided improvement that has taken place, for them to surreader a large portion of their reserves, simply because the law did not require them to carry the accumulations that were formerly essential.

"The fact is that many of the banks will continue to hold about as much reserve money under the new system as is called for by the provisions of the old law.

called upon to make it necessary for us to be ready to make large remittances it called upon to do so.

"The chances are that we will not be called upon to make such remittances, as there are rather definite indications that with the large shipments of gold to Ottawa this week, a sufficient credit has been established with the Bank of England to provide for all the maturities which have to be cared for in the near future.

"But the fact that there are various contingencies to reckon with, makes it natural for the banks to pursue a conservative policy with reference to cash-reserve requirements.

"The indications were that the Cotton Exchange would be reopened on Monday next. The Liverpool exchange will, in all probability, resume trading without any restrictions at the same time.

The Jarr Family

By ROY L McCARDELL Mr. Jarr Teaches a Lesson

Near-Iron Discipline. T was the morning of the second day and Mrs. Jarr was still with the Cackleberry girls. Mr. Jarr seized upon the missive that Gertrude brought up from the hall letterbox below. It was some compe tion of his grass widowhood to find Mrs. Jarr's epistle so fondly affectionate that he wondered if he had better not destroy it. He feared at some future time Mrs. Jarr might find it in his pocket and accuse him of getting love letters.

"They want me to go on a jaunt with them, sweetheart. We start within an hour. Shall I go?" Mrs. Jarr had writ-

As the letter had been posted the afternoon of the day before Mr. Jarr gave his silent consent.

"Mr. Blodger is looking for work," Mr. Jarr read on from the letter. "And he thinks, dear, he would accept a position if you would get it for him. He would only accept a position that did not entail excessive amount of application, as he is suffering from a complication. The compensation must be adequate and the duties be such as would permit him to ride around town in a taxicab, with a pense account for the entertainment of out-of-town customers. His wife does not wish him to overtax himself and he does not wish to do anything to cause

"He would prefer a position which would necessitate his being attired in apparel of the best, but in such a case uld insist his attire be charged to the firm 'Ad Lib'-whoever he is-buthese were Mr. Blodger's very words-'Ad Lab,' if I spell the name right. But I wish to say, if you will take my advice, you will not recommend Mr. Blodger to any such position, for he is nothing but a well dressed loafer, and he wouldn't attend to his duties, and you'd be blamed for recommending him. So den't you do it. But, for goodness' sake, don't say I said so!"

Mr. Jarr resolved to be advised by his wife in this case. In fact, he knew a better man to fill such a position. That man's wife was now at the home of the Cackleberry girls, but the man wasn't.

"A letter from your mother, dear," said Mr. Jarr as he put it back in the envelope. "She wants you both to be

"Are there any movies where maw is, paw?" asked Master Jarr. "Is dere any ice tweam cones or ice tweam sodas where muvver is?" asked the little girl. Mr. Jarr replied that he thought there Whereupon the little girl com and cry:

"I want to go wif my dear muvver! I want to go wif my dear muvver!" And Mr. Jarr, with parental solemnity, had to insist that she cease her cries and regard the oulchritudinous conduct of her brother in the absence of their

"Haw!" cried Master Jarr. "Yah, see, Emma, pop is going to give me money to go to the movies after school, because I'm good while maw is away. But YOU can't go to the movies because you're a

Whereat the little girl, to disprove she was a cry baby and perhaps in envy of the social perfections of her brother, screamed and threw her breakfast plate

Mr. Jarr restored order almost instant ly by stating that they both would HAVE to go to the movies, accompanied by Gertrude, who would report to him if they misbehaved while there.

Even if mother is away a father may maintain discipline in the home, if he is firm in making the children eat ice cream and go to the moving pictures!
